A MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

Scholarships are critically important in helping students achieve their goals and dreams. We need this generation of students to engage the world’s challenges as leaders, innovators, and change agents. Scholarships create opportunities for our students to lean in and learn – from first-year students exploring the possibilities to those who are nearing graduation and looking forward to the next steps in their chosen fields. The College of Health and Human Sciences is fortunate to have many wonderful and supportive donors who are committed to our students’ successes. Your support helps prepare the leaders of tomorrow and reduces the financial burdens that might limit their ability to realize their dreams. For that, I am forever grateful. Thank you for all that you do for our College and our students!
